PS-1	A Student	Understand academic content written in different languages.	I cannot read foreign language materials.	Most study resources and research papers are not available in my native language.	Confused, stressed, and limited in accessing global knowledge.
PS-2	A Business Professional	Communicate effectively with international clients and partners.	Language barriers create misunderstandings in emails, documents, and meetings.	Manual translation tools are slow and may not provide accurate contextual meaning.	Uncertain and less confident during global interactions.
PS-3	A Traveler	Understand signs, menus, and instructions while traveling abroad.	I do not know the local language.	Many translation apps are complicated or provide inaccurate translations.	Anxious and dependent on others for help.
PS-4	A Researcher	Read and understand research papers published in different countries.	Many research articles are written in unfamiliar languages.	Translating them manually takes too much time and effort.	Frustrated and restricted from accessing global research contributions.
PS-5	A Social Media User	Interact with people from different countries on social platforms.	Posts and comments are written in multiple languages.	Existing tools often lack contextual understanding and tone accuracy.	Disconnected and excluded from global conversations.
